Key Facts
The Trojans lived in the city of Troy, in what is now Turkey.
The Trojan War began when Paris, Prince of Troy, ran away with Helen, wife of King Menelaus of Sparta . The Greeks sent a fleet of ships, with an army, to get her back from within the city wall of Troy.
The city of Troy was protected by a high wall built around the city. Some parts of the wall were 20 feet high! At the time of this story, Greek warriors had been trying to breach the wall around Troy for about ten years.
Odysseus, a famous ancient Greek general, thought of a trick. He suggested the Greeks build a huge, wooden horse, and leave it outside the gates of Troy.
Troy was told that the horse was a gift from a God. Odysseus

The Story of the Trojan Horse

Around 1250 BC war broke out between the armies of the city of Troy and the combined forces of the cities of Sparta and Mycenae because Helen of Sparta was kidnapped.

was hoping that the people of Troy would take the horse within the walls. He sent 30 men into the horse undercover.

The Sparta army laid siege for 10 years until Odysseus came up with the idea of the Trojan Horse. They built his creation and placed 30 men inside it.

When the Horse was placed within the walls, the men retreated out of it, in the dead of night, and took over the city. They also returned Queen Helen to the King of Sparta.
